The storm had its effect on telephone and telegraph poles throughout the city. The service of the Police Department was especially disturbed by the electrical conditions, and the in-turbed by the electrical conditions, and the instruments in the station houses rang new and strange tunes all yesterday afternoon.

Early in the day several cases of prostration by heat were reported. An unknown woman, about twenty-nine years old, was overcome in front of No. 1,684 Third-ave, and was reroved to the Presbyterian Hospital. She had brown hair and wore a blue dress and a black straw sailor hat. Other cases were:

Dominick Augostino, thirty-six years old, at One-hundred-and-eighty-fourth-st, and Tenth-ave, taken to Manhattan Hospital.

Patrick Rooney, fifty-five years old, of No. 438

West Twenty-ninth-st., a street sweeper, to Roose-

Commissioner Brennan's street sweepers served notice upon him yesterday that they could not work in the broiling sun unless he provided them with umbrelias or gave them something in the way of more comfortable headgear. The Commissioner issued an order forthwith making it lawful for the men to wear straw hats during the summer months. A uniform style will be adopted.

DEATH IN THE STORM.

A BROOKLYN PAINTER, BLINDED AND STUNNED, FALLS TEN STORIES TO THE GROUND.

LIGHTNING STRIKES THE BIG WAREHOUSES AT ERIE BASIN-A STUBBORN FIRE BURN-ING IN THE COTTON.

The lightning yesterday did not confine its damage to this city, but struck twice in Brooklyn, where a fire, causing a loss of $150,000, was caused by it in a cotton warehouse, and a man was knocked from a ofty building in Columbia Heights and killed. The lightning set fire to warehouse D, one of four belonging to the New-York Warehousing Company, on the Erie Basin, between Van Brunt and Conover South Brooklyn, and caused a destructive fire, which will probably burn for two or three days. The company owns four hig warehouses, covering a site 500 feet in frontage and 250 feet deep, and five stories in height. They are built of brick with thick walls dividing one from another, and protected by iron shutters. The shock of the lightning bolt was felt by many persons in the vicinity, and a small boy who was in a shed alongside of the warehouse was knocked from his seat and stunned. The fremen found him lying on the ground. He recovered in a short time, and ran home. dining set fire to the cotton on the fifth floor of Warehouse D, and the fire rapidly extended to the fourth and third floors. It also burned off the roof of Warehouse C, but it was thought that the cotton in It did not take fire. The firemen from all the western part of the city were summoned by three alarms, to-gether with the fireboats Seth Low and David A. Boody. The firemen worked several hours before they could feel sure that the fire would be confined to the one warehouse, and most of the engines were kept at work all night drenching the cotton to keep it from warehouses contained cotton valued at $1,200, 000. It is estimated that the loss will not be less than $150,000, and may be more. The cotton was consigned to different firms, and was insured. The ousing Company has its office at No. 52 Broadway, New-York.

alle Fireman Dowd, of Hook and Ladder Company No. 18, was on a ladder placed against the side of the building, it broke into three pieces, and he fell from the third story to the ground, but escaped undurt. William Woolley, a boy of eight years, was standing on a roof at No. 440 Van Brunt-st., with some other boys, when they slid off in a heap. Woolley boy was badly hurt, and was carried to his

The building is cleven stories in height. It was built by Charles Arbuckle as an apartment Since his death it has been decided to make hotel of it. It the work of repainting the walls the painters were at work at the tenth story in inner court. As the shower came up the men sought refuge from the rain, and walked along the swinging scaffold to an open window. All had the chimneys of the building a few feet above and head. The dazzling flash blinded him, and he probably felt the electric shock, for he tumoied of the scaffold and fell headlong to the bottom of the court. The chimney which was struck was shattered and the bricks from it fell to the street, nearly blocking a portion of it. No one was injured by the bricks. As far as could be discovered no serious damage was done to the building.

A house at No. 253 Degraw-st, was struck by the lightnings and damage to the amount of $150 was done.

DAMAGE ON LONG ISLAND.

The storm of yesterday afternoon caused considerable damage at Rockaway Beach. A small two-story frame building in the course of erection at Bockaway Park was blown down. At Willow Grove me of the largest of the trees was struck by light ning, and at the grove at Averne another tree struck. A sloop yacht, painted white, and about thirty-five feet in length, was dragged from her anchorage at Beach Channel and dashed against the railroad restle. A small cat-rigged boat, in which ashore at the Iron Pler, where the two men reached shore and their boat was left to break to pieces in the heavy surf. The men, who are members of the the heavy surf. The men, who are memoers of the Harlem Yacht Club, returned to New-York by rail. A cow and a pig, which were running at large in the fields near the kings County Court House at this place during the heavy thunderstorm this afternoon, were struck by lightning and instantly killed. The streets about the Long Island Railroad depot were flooded, and passengers from the ferries to the trains had to wade through water ankle deep.

LIGHTNING AT WORK ON STATEN ISLAND. A severe storm prevailed on Staten Island at 3 o'clock yesterday afterneon. The wind blew a gale and the rain fell in torrents. The streets along the shores were floeded, as were many cellars. Lightning struck an electric wire in one of the buildings of the New-York Printing and Dyeing establishment of the New-Fork Frinang and Dyeing establishment at West New-Brighion, setting fire to the building, but the fire was extinguished without much damage. The tsiephone wires of the police department were burned out by lightning. A washout at the Arietta street crossing at Tompkinsville of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad caused a delay of half an hour to trains. The new railroad extension between Arrochar and South Ecach was also badly washed out.

TELEPHONES BURNED OUT AT NEW-BRUNSWICK. During the heavy thunderstorm yesterday afternoon, home of James Flemming, at Guilden and Mines sts., New Brunswick, N. J., was struck by lightning. The roof was set on fre, but the building was saved by the firemen. About fifty telephones in different parts of the city were burned out, and telegraphic communication was interrupted for some time.

THEY OBJECT TO THE USE OF THE PEST-HOUSE. Rockford, Ill., June 6.-A mob of twenty-five gathered at midnight about the west end pest-house, not to keep the patients in the building. The Health Officer addressed them, stating that there was no danger of a spread of the contagion, as every pre-caution would be taken. The crowd refused to dis-perse and threw rails at the Chief of Police. A force of men then fired into the air and the crowd dispersed. They were armed with Winchesters. The trouble is caused by the fact that the pest-house is to a thickly populated part of the city.

UNEASINESS IN HAWAII.

RUMORS OF A ROYALIST UPRISING.

A NEW ANNEXATION TREATY TO BE SENT TO WASHINGTON-THE UNCERTAINTY RUIN-OUS TO TRADE-CLAUS SPRECK.

ELS'S CLAIM.

[FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.] Honolulu, May 30.-Things are badly mixed in Hawaii, between the uncertainty in regard to Mr. lount's report and Mr. Cleveland's action, the money difficulties that have been precipitated on the Provisional Government by Claus Spreckels, who wants $95,000 that the Government owes to him, and the activity of the Royalists, which may at any time take the form of a coup d'etat. The annexationists deny that there is any truth in the reports of a threatened Royalist uprising on Jone 11, at the as proof of this the collapse of the proposed public meeting this week, which was called off, as the speakers feared arrest. Nevertheless, there is much uneasiness, and any small incident may brirg on a bloody conflict. The rumor that Mr. Blount's re-port is against annexation has led to an increase of sentiment in favor of a protectorate, but President Dole and his Cabinet have not yet given up hope of annexation. They have drafted a new treaty to submit to Mr. Cleveland, which includes provisions for settlement of the contract labor question and the control of the Crown lands. The Provisional leaders desire to obtain some exemption from the operation of the American contract labor laws, giving in return guarantees that neither Chinese, Japanese nor South Sea Islanders shall be permitted to go from Hawali to the United States.

Another question that is brought out by the talk of annexation is the value of the Hawalian silver coins. The Government has $900,000 in silver dollars worth from 62 to 65 cents, according to the market price of silver. If no provision is made for making these coins legal tender after annexation, they will be worth only their value as silver, a loss to the islands of $300,000. Of the $000,000 silver, there is now $650,000 in circulation and $250,000 in the treasury, for which silver certificates are outstanding The treaty, it is understood, will be taken to Washington by Frank Hastings, the newly appointed Secretary of the Hawalian Legation, and will be delivered to Minister Thurston. By the present steamer go strong instructions to Mr. Thurston to call on President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham and securfrom them a definite answer as to what they propose to do for Hawaii. The Minister is urged to impress upon Mr. Gresham the great importance of a speedy decision for or against annexation, as the present uncertainty is ruining trade on the islands.

That trade is bad on the Islands is shown by the delinquent tax list of the island of Oahu, on which Honolulu stands. The list already amounts to $18,000, which is $8,000 more than last year. Reports from year. To offset these gloomy reports, the annexa tionists declare that they have corresponded with English financiers and can obtain a loan of between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 upon Crown and Government lands. They say that an English syndicate is rendy to advance this money in order to get a sure hold on the islands, but the Royalists declare that this is absurd, for no level-headed financier would risk money on lands to which the Provisional Government

There is a pretty well authenticated report that Claus Spreckels has made a formal demand for $05,000 benner, when lightning struck one of which he loaned to the deposed Queen last fall, receiving Hawalian bonds as security. The Provisiona Government organ denies that spreckels has demanded this money, but those who are close to spreckels say that he is angry over the rejection of his plans for a republic, and has sworn that the present Government shall not be helped by his money. As the Annexationists are unable to pay current expenses without borrowing, it is impossible for them to repay spreckels without making some new loan, and this, in the face of Mr. Cleveland's pelicy, is doubtful.

Minister Blount is quoted as saying that everything will come out all right, and that there is no fear of trouble or bloodshed, but his optimism is siarred by few people who have any means of ascertaining public sentiment on the islands. this money, but those who are close to Spreckels say les entiment on the islands.

The Government has deferred to Minister Blount's opinion that it has no jurisdiction in the Nordhoff case for the matter has been dropped, and there is no more talk of violence or libel suits for the correspondent.

DEMANDING THEIR MONEY.

SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITORS IN CHICAGO STILL EXCITED.

NO DANGER OF ANY FAILURES-MANY OF FERS OF ASSISTANCE IF NEEDED-DE-POSITORS ROBBED AFTER DRAW-

ING THEIR MONEY. Chicago, June 6 .-- It was not until after 2 o'clock this morning that the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank closed its doors after paying the last de positor that remained in line at that hour. This performance, it is said, broke the record, it being the first time in this country, so far as is known. that a bank has remained open after midnight in order to meet a run. As early as 7 o'clock this morning, however, another batch of depositors had made their appearance, and they lounged against the walls or sat on the curbstone awaiting the regular hour for opening. At the Bank of Commerce, further up the street, as well as at the Dime Savings Bank, the Union Trust and the Hibernian Bank, the same scenes were being

By 10 o'clock it was apparent that yesterday's experience would be repeated at each institution. At some of toem there were double lines of de positors extending for a couple of blocks; at the others the crowd extended into the middle of the street, and those composing it pushed their way inside as best they could. Officers of all the institutions insisted that they were able to weather the storm, and with the exception of the Union Trust and Savings Bank and the Dime Savings Bank not one has so far found it necessary to enforce even the thirty days' notice rule. This latter institution is paying from 20 to 80 per cent in cash, according to the needs of the various applicants, and requiring the usual thirty days notice for the balance.

The former demands notice on 10 per cent only. At the various National banks it is said that the Illinois Trust, which has savings deposits subect to notice amounting to a total of $10,500,000, and individual deposits subject to check of $7,500,-000 more, is as sound as the Bank of England, and the officers of the institution insist that they can pay off every depositor in the savings branch and still have several millions left for an emergency. Over $2,000,000 in currency has been offered to it since the run began yesterday. L. Z. Leiter, one of the directors, himself offered a round million, but the assistance was declined with thanks and an intimation that it was not needed. It was noticeable that at all the banks now being subjected to a run the applicants were identified with the savings departments, the business at the commercial windows being only about an average. While savings depositors would be crushing and struggling at one end of an office to get their money, representatives of business houses would be landing in their rolls of currency and bags of silver at the other end. Nor was there any unwonted excitement apparent around any of the National banks

The assets of the Illinois Trust and Savings Pank are counted up as follows: Cash on hand, $3,609,000; sundry bonds, $2,904,000; demand loans, $7,496,000; time loans, $5,300,000; real estate loans, $3,205,000; capital stock, $2,000,-000; surplus, $1,600,000; stockholders' liability, $2,000,000; total, $28,114,000. The stockholders are estimated to be worth $150,000,000. bank has not called a loan in nine years. L. Z. Leiter, who is one of the heaviest stockholders in the bank, said last night:

"I have real estate enough to pay all these claims, and it is at the service of the bank. Every person who has a dollar here may have it on demend. I am able alone to make that assertion

A large number of those who have withdrawn their money from the bank within the last twenty-four hours have deposited it in safety deposit vaults, and it is now almost impossible to secure a lock box at any of those institutions. Bankers believe that in a week or two, when the financial situation has resumed its normal condition the greater part of this money will be returned to the institutions now paying it out, as the holders would infinitely prefer to have it drawing interest rather than to be taxed for oxes in which to keep it.

This afternoon the crowds surrounding the different banks diminished, and a measure of confidence seems to have been restored to the sav-

Early the depositors anxious to withdraw their money gathered in front of the Woman's Temple, when, at 9 o'clock, the doors were opened, every one tried to get in at once. The result for a moment was a dangerous jam. Women caught in the squeeze screamed, and some fainted, men swore, and they all kept on pressing forward and adding to the jam. For a brief time the situation was serious, and it seemed as if some one would be killed. A force of policemen was hastily summoned, and by hard work succeeded in getting the people into line, one or two women being carried away in a fainting condition. Around the other banks on which the runs began yesterday the crowds were, for the most part, orderly. The run on the Milwaukee Avenue Savings Bank entirely stopped before noon. The distinguishing feature in the crowds around the banks was the large number of women in them. The fairer sex formed a majority of the people in line, and were much more energetic than the men in reaching the paying tellers' windows. One feature of the run of yesterday is the fact that several unfortunates have been robbed of the money drawn by them from the bank. Two women, who stood in line at the Union Trust

Several minor cases of pocket picking have been reported.

Prominent bank officials are sure that the present flurry will subside in a day or two and confidence be restored. One of them said to-day: "Let alarmed depositors think a moment of the various banks, so-called, which have closed their doors in this and other cities since the beginning of the present flurry. Not one was wisely managed. All were fundamentally weak. Their disappearance from the scene has been a benefit to the banking system of the country. No one outside of their depositors is injured by their disappearance, save those depositors of other banks who have taken alarm and deprived themselves of interest on their savings by withdrawing their money. The Chicago banks are among the best in the country. In troublous times of the past the sound institutions have stood together loyally, and have weathered for worse storms than any that is now in sight. They would do this again if it were necessary. Their depositors have absolutely no cause for alarm."

As a matter of fact it was stated by Cashier Blount, of the Chicago National, this evening, that while the weaker institutions are suffering the strong ones are profiting. His bank opened more new accounts and received more deposits vesterday than at any time in six months past.

Washington, June 6.—Controller Eckels said to a reporter this morning that "so far as present advices go from Chicago, no National bank has been affected by the financial flurry of yesterday. The Clearing House banks stand ready and willing to assist one another and give aid in every manner needed. This fact will do much to give confidence to the people and prevent anything like a run upon any National banks. The savinas bank failures of yesterday have not produced any consternation among the depositors of the National banks, and will not.

The abstract of the condition of National banks in Chicago on the date of the last call showed a reserve of 29.45 per cent, or 4.45 per cent above the reserve required by law. The total resources are stated at $160.864.864. The surplus fund was $11,516,700, and undivided profits $2,525,000.

Chicago, June 6 (Special).-With apparent composur Zimri Dwiggins received the information conveyed by a newspaper dispatch from Indiana that he had been indicted for embezzlement at Kokomo, Ind. He particularly desired that his son should not be informed. Mr. Hooper has not seen Mr. Merrill since that time. Mr. Merrill intended to be gone for several weeks, but the published statements, Mr. Hooper thinks, will hasten his return home. His financial affairs, his secretary says, are in good condition, and all claims against him will be promptly paid when he returns.

REPUBLICANS WANT A FAIR DIVISION.

Trenton, N. J., June 6 (Special).-R. Wayne Parker, counsel for the Republican Committee of Essez County, fled petitions in the Supreme Court to-day, asking for a writ of mandamus to compel the City Clerk of Newark and the County Clerk of Essex to hold all future elections by general ticket. This is an attack upon the system of redistricting the counties into Assembly districts. The Republicans of Essex have suffered heavily at el ctions since the introduction of the system, and they propose to test the con-stitutionality of the act under which Essex was redivided. The strongest argument advanced by Essex Republicans is that Eight Democratic Assemblymen were elected in that county in 1892, with an aggregate majority of 3,771, while the three Republican Assemblymen had an aggregate majority of 5,097. The matter is to come up for argument to-morrow,
